Horseshoe Bay Resort Celebrates Stress Awareness Month with Spa Relaxation Offer

Includes $135 Spa Credit & Daily Breakfast

Horseshoe Bay, TX — March 5, 2009 — According to a recent study by the American Psychological Association, eight out of ten people say the current state of the economy is a significant cause of stress. In honor of April's designation as Stress Awareness Month, Horseshoe Bay Resort is helping the overburdened and burnt out forget their economy-induced worries with a value-added, relaxation-laced getaway including a spa experience. The tension-tackling Spa Relaxation package is priced nightly from $247 per person, based on double occupancy, and includes a $135 spa credit for each guest and breakfast at Lantana Grill.* Guests who cannot make the trip in April can relax, as the escape is valid now through May 21, 2009.

Spa-goers at Horseshoe Bay Resort can ease their worries and use their credit towards classic treatments like a Swedish massage and Bayside Custom facial, or fully indulge in a Hill Country Envelopment body treatment or Transformation facial. Stress-busting highlights from the Bayside Spa include the Stone Therapy massage for deep relaxation or the Botanical Body Polish that replenishes from head-to-toe. If one member of the duo is a spa-goer and the other a golfer, spa lovers can double up and use their travel companion's credit while they hit the links on one of the resort's three, championship Robert Trent Jones, Sr. courses.
